SAME TRAFFIC LAWS FOR ALL CITIES, URGES OFFICER

Pasadena Police Chief Makes Suggestion at Banquet by Auto Trades Members

One traffic ordinance for all the cities of California was recommanded by Charles H. Kelley, chief of police at Pasadena, last night in the Hotel Vista Del Arroyo at the banquet and quarterly entertainment program of the San Gabriel Valley Automobile Trade Association.

"Every place you go they have a different ordinance," declared Chief Kelley, "and it would drive you crazy to try to figure them out. In fact, the more you read them, the less you know about them. There is one section of the state traffic law which I never could understand: Why does the law require a motorist to signal when making a right turn when the law says that he cannot pass another car to the right? Lots of us are sloppy when it comes to giving signals. That is only one more!"

Passage of some sort of a law to prevent transfer of automobile titles in case of theft was recommended by Chief Kelley, who suggested that this be handled by the police or sheriff and that owners be required to identify their car before receiving a title to it. He admitted that it seemed to him from the number of cars which were parked with the ignition key in place that a number of owners wanted their cars stolen, particularly if they were insured.

Millionaires And Paupers

"The growth of the automobile business in this country has created some peculiar situations," stated Chief Kelley. "It has made millionaires out of a few of us and has kept the rest of us near the pauper line. It has increased the work of police departments 500 per cent but it has not increased the number of policemen—and it hasn't increased their intelligence."

Chief Kelley, who was introduced as "the official catcher and go-getter

Miss Viola Yorba, beautiful and talented daughter of Mrs. C. A. Miss Viola Yorba 123,950
Miss Dorothy Morton 115,425

Miss Jane Novak, famous film star, placed the crown over Miss Yorba's brunette tresses after Mayor Spencer Robinson had presented a $200 diamond ring to the queen, a $100 solid gold Waltham wrist watch to Miss Morton and a $50 bar pin to Mrs. Roberts.

After L. W. Hoge, manager of the contest, had quieted the crowd waiting for the eventful announcements, W. B. Kelly introduced the mayor and Miss Novak. G. W. Smithson then read the results to the cheering hundreds of admirers of the candidates and the trio of prize winners were lifted onto the float which will bear the queen in state during the Armistice Day parade.

In addition to the ring, Miss Yorba was presented with an order for one dozen photographs by the Ralph W. Brown studio. Mayor Robinson said in part:

"I want to congratulate the Glendale post, American Legion, on the wonderful shows they have brought here, the entertainment of the week and the efforts in this contest.

"Glendale, the miracle city of America, has bestowed on one of its members the greatest compliment possible tonight and we are glad to have such a queen. Long live our queen!"

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 10.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch of France arrived in Pittsburg shortly after 9 o'clock today. Originally he had been scheduled to come to the Pennsylvania station, but the secret service had been advised through the American Legion that an attack might be made against the marshal and it was decided that no chances would be taken and he was shifted through Braddock, a suburb. Only the official reception committee and other high city officials knew of the secret change in the routing of the marshal and his party and these were the only ones to welcome him at Braddock.

The delegation was headed by Right Honorable A. J. Balfour and included Sir Maurice Hankey, Sir John Gordon, Lieut. General Lord Cavan and technical experts. Sir A. J. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Charging she is being illegally held at the county jail and contending she is at least eneitled to release on bail because of an alleged technical error by the prosecution attorneys, an application of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, indicted with Arthur C. Burch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, for a writ of mandamus was ready to be filed in the district court of appeals today. The application for a writ was the "last ditch" fight of Charles E. Erbstein of Chicago, Mrs. Obenchain's attorney, to compel Superior Judge Reeve to either dismiss the indictment against her on the ground she was not brought to trial within the sixty day limit after her arraignment or transfer her case to another court for an immediate trial.

DELEGATES TO ARMS PARLEY HOLDING CONFERENCES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The eloquent presence of a simple flag-draped casket in the rotunda of the national capitol today forced a suspension of practically all American activities bearing on the armament conference, now but forty-eight hours away. America filed in solemn procession past the bier of her unknown dead and mourned. Most of the foreign delegations, however, held final preliminary meetings at their respective headquarters. While the foreign delegations, and particularly the Japanese and Chinese contingents, have held almost daily meetings for the past week, most of them disclaim the preparation of any "set" program of national aims for the conference. "Wait until we see what America has to propose" is the official announcement of all the visiting foreigners.

MANY PAY TRIBUTE TO AMERICA'S NAMELESS HERO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Moving reverently through the shadowed rotunda of the national capitol, gray haired mothers and high officials of the government, battle-scarred war veterans and envoys of world powers paid homage and tribute today at the bier of America's nameless hero. Beneath a mountain of laurel and roses he slept the sleep from which none may awake, reposing upon the catafalque which has borne Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, until he shall be buried at Arlington as a symbol of the love and gratitude of a mighty nation for her honored dead. Only the wreath placed there by the president of the United States rested on the simple oaken casket this morning. At 8 o'clock the solemn procession began. Thousands who were not allowed to pause at the catafalque filed through the rotunda offering silent prayers. The tears of the nation's profound sorrow glistened unashamed in many eyes as citizens of high and low estate mingled in the endless human stream.

Health Conditions in Glendale Good, Declares Official

We are thankful to say that epidemics and contagious diseases seem to be conspicuous by their absence—for which we are certainly thankful," declared Dr. J. E. Eckles, city health officer, in a letter to the grammar school board of education. "Conditions are very satisfactory as regards the health of the people in general.

"The ruling regarding the admission of children to school after having been absent five or more days is temporarily suspended. All children, who have suffered from a contagious disease will be required to secure certificates as before. Those who have not been ill or who have simply been suffering from ordinary ailments which are not contagious or communicable will not be required to secure a certificate in order to return.

"We would be glad, however, if the teachers would continue sending children home from school who show evidence of illness and then reporting to this department.

"It is our earnest desire to prevent any contagion or infection from developing and to keep down epidemics but at the same time to make the regulations of this department as easy as possible without impairing its efficiency."

St. Louis Woman Chosen as Member of Civil Service

By HAZEL BLAIR
Written for International News Service

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 10.—The distinction of being the first woman to be appointed to an official position by President Harding goes to Mrs. Bessie Parker Bruggeman of St. Louis.

Mrs. Bruggeman is popular in local society and adds to her brilliant mind a winning personality. She was foremost in the republican campaign among Missouri women last fall and was national committeewoman from her state and delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention in 1920.

The new duties of Mrs. Bruggeman take her to Washington, where she is on the commission that fixes claims of the civil service employes who require compensation for injuries while in the service. The commission is composed of two men and one woman. Mrs. Frances Axtell of Bellingham, Wash., held the position on the commission during the war period.

Much Experience

To her new duties Mrs. Bruggeman brings experience of many kinds. She is a business woman, looking after her extensive interests. She is a politician and has been associated with the leading Missouri politicians for years. She is an organizer, having been made captain of the St. Louis motor brigade during the war.

Before receiving her most recent honors Mrs. Bruggeman held a position on the republican state executive committee and also on the national advisory committee of republican affairs. During the summer she was on the east coast and received her appointment summons to the White House in an entirely unexpected way.

When visited recently in her home she was busy with plans for her work and removal of "household goods" to Washington, D. C. "To move for a period of six years is no small task," she explained, "and I have begun as early as possible.

She Is Pleased

"Of course I am pleased and so are my friends. I always have been interested in politics and was brought up in such an atmosphere, my father having dubbed me the 'little politician' on account of my interest. Now that we have the vote I feel it is up to us women to do our part when called on. I appreciate the honor conferred upon me by our president and shall do my best to pave the way for similad appointments for women. I shall try to bring to my duties an intelligent opinion, for I feel keenly it is up to me as the first woman appointee of the president to make good."

Dance and You'll Be Beautiful; Yes, But What Kind, Eh?

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Dance and be beautiful. It is the latest London cult.

Mr. Edward Scott is the new prophet, and the book of the gospel is his book, "Dancing for Strength and Beauty."

But one may also dance and be ugly, naturally, considering the wide assortment of contortions to be selected from. It stands to reason, the prophet infers, that all dances do not make one beautiful.

It's this way:

"Dancing of a superior order, renascent dancing, combining the elegance of the ancient Greeks with the virility of sixteenth- to eighteenth-century ideals, does actually tend to improve the looks of those who practice it.

"Dances that produce exhilaration, like the genuine waltz, tend unmistakably to soften the features and brighten the facial expression of the dancer."

But, above all, be not gymnastic.

However proficient and graceful you may become by gymnastic training and constant practice it will never admit you to the ranks of the beauty cult. Severe strain tends to "harden the features."

And certainly Beauty is not to be wooed "by practicing some of the decadent wriggling movements that recently disgraced our ballrooms."

The real, triple-riveted answer is the minuet. That is the "dance par excellence best adapted for the promotion of grace and beauty."

And then the catch—there's always a catch in such things somewhere. All the world cannot run out and acquire grace and beauty tomorrow night.

For the real minuet, the one guaranteed to cure all comers of homeliness, isn't danced any more; it isn't known, and few there are who can teach it.

Hungarian Generals Take to Tailoring

LONDON — Hungarian generals and statesmen, and a majority of the nobility who played brilliant roles during the war and at the court of the ex-emperor, are following the example of Field Marshal von Koevess, the conqueror of Ivangorod, who recently opened a cigar shop in Budapest, by setting up in business as shopkeepers, tailors, carpenters and clerks.

The Baroness Dora Banfiy, daughter of the former Hungarian premier, has opened a hat shop, while Count Eugen Klebelsberg has become a mounted policeman on probation.

Count Albert Apponyi, the veteran Hungarian statesman, writes two articles monthly for a New York magazine and Herr von Szepessy, member of an old family of aristocrats, is about to marry a dressmaker and plans to become a woman's tailor.

Famous dancers and singers, unable to live on their salaries have opened manicure saloons, and the greatest tragedienne of the National theatre, Emilia Markus, is employed in a soap factory.

Mead shot his wife twice and also shot his little son as it was held in the arms of its mother. He then fired a bullet into his own brain.

Kills Self on Wedding Day

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—Harry Cook, 21, was found dead from a bullet wound, in front of a restaurant here. He was to have been married in the afternoon. Police could not determine whether he had been murdered or had committed suicide.

Fire Threatens in Hospital

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 10.—Cool judgment and prompt action of doctors and nurses saved a number of lives when fire broke out in the Methodist hospital here. The third and fourth floors of the building were destroyed, the loss totaling upward of $100,000. Operations were in progress when the fire started and many patients were lying seriously ill in upper story rooms. The doctors and nurses immediately began to remove them to places of safety.

Two Years in Penitentiary

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 10.—James Ellerson of San Francisco was sentenced to two years in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta by Judge Rufus F. Foster, in the Federal court, after he had pleaded guilty of having 1,670 cubes of cocaine in his possession.

Reduction in Freight Rates

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Reduction of freight rates on fifty or more commodities between Chicago and the Pacific coast were announced by R. B. Robertson, assistant freight traffic manager of the Union Pacific system.

The new rates were agreed upon by trans-continental roads to enable them to compete with the river and canal carriers, Mr. Robertson said.

The new tariffs should become effective in about a month, he added. The list is now being prepared for publication. Many of the reductions are as much as 20 per cent.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Officials of T. W. Keelin & Company, a $1,000,000 feed and grain concern, confessed in criminal court to tricking their customers, many of whom were large business houses, through the operation of a short weight system.

Wilbur H. Keelin, vice-president and secretary of the company, testified that the system had been in operation the last twelve years.

The defendants, including Thomas W. Keelin, president of the concern, were charged with conspiracy.

Murdered Two, He Says

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Nov. 10.—When arraigned before Municipal Judge Wm. R. Sprague, Ray Chamblin pleaded guilty to having murdered John W. Newman and Miss Louise Doyle on the night of October 21.

Asked if he had anything to say, Chamblin replied:

"No. I have told the sheriff everything." He was then remanded to jail without bond to await the action of the grand jury next Wednesday.

TWO WIDOWS CLAIMED HIM

HIAWATHA, Kan., Nov. 10.—Two widows who claimed the same man as husband today settled out of court their claims to a $100,000 estate.

One was Mrs. Olive Belk of Los Angeles, first wife of King Belk, who died three years ago at Liberal, Mo., after leading a double life for more than half a century. The other was Mrs. Charity Belk of Liberal, the second wife. By the terms of the settlement Mrs. Olive Belk will receive $25,000 of the estate and Mrs. Charity Belk the remainder.

King Belk left his wife and two sons in Los Angeles fifty-five years ago and returned to his former home in Hiawatha. He married again in Liberal, not securing a divorce. The California widow believed all these years that her husband had been killed by Indians in Idaho five years after he had left her. Two years ago, however, one of her sons happened to pass through Hiawatha and discovered the double life led by his father. Suit for the estate followed.

A. A. Jackson Says Prices in Glendale Less Than Elsewhere

"It is an old story," says A. A. Jackson, of the firm of Jackson & Clark, men's furnishers, 120 East Broadway, "but the facts are, however, that the people of Glendale should trade at home.

"Most every line of business is well represented with large assortments and it is my belief from careful observation that merchandise is sold as a whole, for even a lesser price than it is sold for in most instances in Los Angeles.

"Why shouldn't we have new and complete stocks—our markets are near at hand. And why shouldn't we sell for less? Think of the tremendous overhead expenses of those operating on Main street, Spring street or Broadway in Los Angeles.

"When we were looking for a location I recall the price of our room, 12 by 30 feet on Broadway, between Seventh and Eighth streets, ran something like $850 per month for one year, $900 per month for the next year, and $1,000 per month for the remaining part of a five-year lease.

"And why we came to Glendale? The people of Glendale as a whole talked loyalty—they want to see Glendale grow, and we must establish among those that prefer to shop elsewhere the fact that they can save money by staying at home."

REVOLUTION OR MOVIES?

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 10.—One hundred and fifty Mexicans on the payroll of Estaban Cantu, deposed Governor of Lower California and rumored head of revolutionary plots against the Mexican government, are quartered in this city, waiting word of advance on Tia Juana and other border towns, according to police disclosures. The men came here from other parts of the southwest, it is declared, and began assembling about the time two truckloads of arms and ammunition, destined for "movies" were captured, police declare.

The munitions are held, but on orders of federal authorities the men who were transporting them toward the border were freed. The Mexican government has ordered 5000 federal troops to Ensenada and other stations in Lower California as a precautionary measure.

THIS IS WHAT IT DOES

"Prohibition," he said, "is a good thing, but, like lots of good things, it comes a little hard at first. I know a rich New York bachelor who didn't believe in prohibition. He spent his evenings at clubs and cabarets, and the truth of the matter is that for eight years he never once went home sober; but prohibition came to New York and it got my rich bachelor friend on July 1. That night, for the first time since 1911, he went home sober, and his dog bit him."

Submarines Excel in Surface Boat Tests

WASHINGTON—During the year now closing American submarines invaded the competitions hitherto restricted to surface craft, and ran away with trophies for gunnery and engineering and other naval accomplishments, the navy deparement announced recently.

In submarine division No. 1, based on Coco Solo, Panama, the O-12, commanded by Lieutenant M. Y. Cohen, won the gunnery trophy for excellence with torpedo and gun, and the O-16, Lieutenant W. C. Burgy, won the engineer letter for excellence.

The gunnery letter in division No. 6, based on San Pedro, Cal., was won by H-6, Lieutenant P. K. Swenson, and the engineering letter was won by the H-2, Lieutenant E. E. Hazelett, Jr. At Pearl Harbor, the R-18, Lieutenant A. G. Hatch, won the gunnery letter in division No. 14, and the R-11, Lieutenant B. S. Killmaster, took the trophy in engineering.

French Women Pick 'Handsomest' Man

PARIS—Having elected what they considered was the handsomest man in France, French women are now busy framing rules which such a man should observe in married life, as follows:

Never dare to give orders to a wife even for her own good.

Never commit the crime of being a bore.

Never resemble a preacher or schoolmaster.

Avoid assassinating the wife with good advice or wise examples taken from his own family.

Offer everything before she has asked for the slightest thing.

HAWAIIAN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

HONOLULU, T. H.—An increase in the enrollment for the school year of about 3000 pupils for the entire territory and about 2250 for the city and county of Honolulu over last year's figures is estimated by local officials of the department of public instruction. Enrollment in the Honolulu public schools for the last school year was 13,743, and in the entire territory 41,151. There is also an increase of 100 teachers for the territory, bringing the total up to 1400 for the year.

The "ballistic wind" is a fictitious wind assumed in computing the flight of projectiles to express the total effect of the winds that actually occur. Its use was introduced during the world war.

Justice Registers 'Fliver' in a Verse

WAPAKONETA, O.—Justice of the Peace R. G. Herman owns a fliver, and under a new law he is required to register it. He thus describes his bus in rhyme:

"The radiator leaks, the body squeaks; there's a hole in the top where the rain comes through;

"The windshield is broke, one wheel lost a spoke, but it hangs together, so 'twill have to do.

"The tail-light is busted, the footboards are rusted; the fenders are loose and rattle like sin;

"The back has been smashed, the tires are gashed; but it's a darn good car for the shape it's in."

FOREIGN DEBTS UNCERTAIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—The status of the $11,000,000,000 indebtedness of foreign governments to the United States is "so uncertain that no one can tell when we will even get the interest on it," Senator Lodge of Massachlusetts, republican leader, declared. "We cannot collect these great foreign credits by force," Lodge said, "and nobody wants to go to war over them. To undertake to pay the soldiers' bonus from them is to wrap the entire question of compensation in an atmosphere of uncertainty." Lodge's declaration was made when he opposed the amendment to the pending tax bill of Senator Simmons, North Carolina, and Walsh, Massachusetts, proposing payment of the soldiers' bonus from interest collected on the foreign indebtedness.

A varied program will be given under the direction of Mrs. Robt. D. Jones and Mrs. Gertrude Kinnear. YOUTH GETS FIVE YEARS

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—The drastic operation of the West Virginia state prohibition laws is shown by the penalty imposed upon Claude Metz, a young man, by Judge E. M. Showalter of the Marion county criminal court, here. Metz was sentenced to serve five years in the state penitentiary, at Moundsville, for having two bottles of whiskey on his hip. That seems rather severe, but the state law provides that a second conviction for violation of the prohibition law is a felony punishable with penitentiary confinement, and the prosecution showed that Metz had once before served a jail term for violating the prohibition laws. In addition, the Judge said, in passing sentence, Metz had been arrested numerous times for bootlegging.

CORPORATION DISSOLVED

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—The Ishpeming Mining company, operating under a West Virginia charter, but with headquarters at Evanston, Ill., and licensed to operate in the state of Missouri, has been dissolved as a West Virginia corporation and has surrendered its charter to the secretary of state. Edward H. Hall is president of the concern.

Progressive Club Has Luncheon and Interesting Talks

The first luncheon meeting of the Progressive Business club of Glendale was held Wednesday afternoon at the White Inn at 12:15 o'clock, with over seventy-five present. In addition to the members of the Glendale club there were representatives from the Los Angeles and Long Beach clubs present. The aims of the club include the discussion of business problems, ways and means of bettering business conditions and it also pledges its support to the Chamber of Commerce in civic activities. The membership is limited to two men from each line of business or profession.

The program at yesterday's meeting included an address by Harry K. Stephenson, president of the Progressive Business club of Long Beach, on "The Objects and Purposes of the Progressive Business Club." This was followed by a brief history of the organization of the club and its growth by Dr. W. P. Burke, president of the Los Angeles club. Frank Glendon, vice president of the Los Angeles club spoke on "What the Club Means to the Individual Member." Dr. H. R. Boyer and A. R. Eastman of Glendale also gave short talks. "Service" was the topic of the address given by Dr. Patton, pastor of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles.

The next meeting of the Glendale Progressive Business club will be held next Monday at 12:15 o'clock at the White Inn, at which time election of officers will take place.

Realistic Feature Picture Presented on Glendale Screen

Nothing more realistic has been produced in the motion picture art which has been born and reached maturity in our own generation than the scene in "Quo Vadis," which opened a three-days' engagement at the Glendale theatre yesterday. In the arena scene, where the Christians are fed to the lions and that great scene in which Rome is burned, one feels the terror and the panic of the fleeing populace.

One contrasts, too, this scene when the Roman empire was crumbling with the scenes of today, when the inhabitants of many villages in Belgium and Northern France have likewise fled from their homes—but before the invading hordes, not to make a Roman emperor's holiday.

In the scene in the arena where the band of Christian martyrs await the most horrible of deaths, one is reminded also of the martyrs of our own day who face privation and death for the sake of an ideal dearer to them than life.

After the games are over, when the Roman populace has imposed its will upon the selfish and degenerate Nero, Venitius escapes with Lygia, and later marries her.

Al St. John is at his best in "Ain't Love Grand?" one of the most hilarious comedies ever seen, which rounds out the Armistice week bill.

Excavations Being Made in Palestine

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The Palestine Weekly reports further progress in the excavations being conducted by the various archeological societies in that country.

At the city of Ascalon the great cloisters with which Herod the Great adorned his birthplace have been identified and excavated. A local museum of sculptures and carvings has been organized, and excavations have commenced in the vicinity of Capernaeum, where a mosaic hexagonal court has been uncovered.

At Caesaera the discovery of pottery and sculpture is announced. On this site measures have been taken for the conservation of such important ancient buildings and for the organization of a local museum.

CHAUFFEUR IS DEAF, DUMB

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—A traffic cop shouted at William Burlson, taxicab driver, but got no response. Going up to him he gave some traffic directions, but he shook his head. He was deaf and dumb. He could neither read nor write. At the police station it was discovered that Burlson had a state chauffeur's license. The city authorities demanded that the license be revoked.

PIGEON ON CLOCK WAGER

DEFIANCE, Ohio—Curb gambling has started here. The gamblers stood across the street from the county courthouse. Their wagers were made on the probable time a pigeon, perched on the big minute hand of the courthouse clock, could maintain his lofty perch.

The longest guess was five minutes, but the bird clung fast until twenty minutes later, when the bell tolled five. Soon after the striking ceased the bird returned to the clock and rode the hand fifteen minutes longer.

THIS COUPLE WELL TIED

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Floyd Fancett, twenty-one, and Miss Marian Hallock, eighteen, of this city, were married one recent afternoon. Mrs. Hallock, mother of Marian, objected, but, becoming reconciled and apparently doubtful of the first ceremony, demanded that another marriage service be performed. This was conformed to the same evening, thus satisfying all concerned.

HANDCUFFS CLOG SPEECH

JACKSON, Mo.—This corroborates the old idea that some folks can't talk without their hands. Ralph Brashear, held in connection with a robbery and murder here, refused to testify as long as he was handcuffed. Chief of Police Segraves had lost the keys. Court was adjourned. The keys were found that night. Brashear testified.

TO OKAY STOCKING BILL

BOSTON.—Silk stockings — 252 scarlet pairs of 'em, of the feminine gender—may be "decorations," or then again they may be "entertainment," it was revealed in a bill from a local department store against the city of Boston. The dignified members of the Finance Commission O. K'd the bill only after it was explained that the stockings were worn effectively as decorations by Back Bay society girls who volunteered to act as waitresses when the city was entertaining the recent American Medical Society convention here.

TO LINE UP DELINQUENTS

LOS ANGELES—Creation of the official position of county "husband prodder" has been decided on by the Los Angeles county board of supervisors. The duty of the "husband prodder" will be to collect from delinquents who have been ordered by the "failure-to-provide" court to support their wives or children.

Judge Summerfield, who handles the failure-to-provide cases, and Presiding Judge Schenck of the Superior court, appeared before the supervisors and pointed out the necessity for such an official. Judge Summerfield stated that about $100,000 a year was being collected through his court. He added that much of the money ordered paid was lost because there was no one to follow up the cases.

MOVIE STUDIO AT ISLAND

HONOLULU, T. H.—Plans are under way to establish the first permanent moving-picture studio in Honolulu, according to W. F. Aldrich local film producer. Mr. Aldrich plans an initial outlay of about $15,000, which, he says, will be increased as rapidly as possible until eventually a big producing company is established.

The new studio will occupy the site of the historic Cleghorn home, at Ainahau, where Robert Louis Stevenson wrote a number of his best-known stories, and which was recently destroyed by fire.

WEAR PLENTY OF CLOTHES

BEAUMONT, Tex. — Police get some queer requests, but Day Sergeant Waldrope, of the local force, thinks one made to him recently takes the cake. It was shortly after a young woman had been arrested for appearing on the street with too little clothes on. The phone at headquarters rang, and a sweet voice said to the sergeant: "Won't you please come up to see me? I just got into town, and I want to be sure I have enough clothes on." The sergeant pondered a moment and then replied, "You'll have to excuse me, ma'am. I'm a married man."

JUST ANOTHER WAR WAIF

LONDON—A bottle of scent, two tins of toilet powder, a cake of soap, two bottles containing milk, a cardboard box containing clothing, a feeding bottle and a note were found with a baby boy which was left on the mat at the front doorstep of a residence at Bondi, near Sydney, Australia.

The note stated: "Please give him to somebody who will love him and be kind to him. His father deserted him and I am nearly destitute."

RALPHS BUILDING TO BE COMPLETED BY FIRST OF MARCH

James W. Jackson, Manager of Grocery Company, Here in Charge of Construction

James W. Jackson of Los Angeles, manager of the Ralphs Grocery company, who is in charge of the construction of the company's building at the northwest corner of West Broadway and North Orange street, states the building will be finished and ready for occupancy by March 1.

Workmen are now busy on the foundation work. Materials are on the ground and more are arriving. The construction office has been erected, and work will be rushed along, according to Mr. Jackson.

Plans call for a two story building of Class "C," the Ralphs Grocery Co. to occupy the 106 feet of the first story on North Orange street and fifty feet on West Broadway. Three other store rooms each 16 by 50 feet on West Broadway will be rented.

Total Cost About $85,000

The second story will consist of fifteen office suites and the I. O. O. F. hall with banquet room and a kitchen in connection. The total cost of the building with equipment, states Mr. Jackson, will be approximately $85,000. He is very enthused over the location of the building and the future of Glendale.

"The Ralphs Grocery company will conduct a complete market here when the building in finished by March 1," he said. "The meat departmena will be the main feature, but a complete line of everything carried by the Ralphs Grocery company will be found here.

"The store will be equipped with all the modern fixtures and sanitary features, with the American Automatic Refrigerating machinery throughout. The market will be operated and owned by the Ralphs Grocery company exclusively."

In Southern California

One Killed, One Injured

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Mose Miller of Balboa Beach was killed and F. H. Robertson of the same place was injured when an automobile in which they were riding went over an embankment near Newport Beach. The accident was due to a heavy fog.

Oil Production Near Normal

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Practically all of the operators in the Kern county oil fields have resumed normal production, according to dispatches from the recent strike district. Many union men have been re-employed, according to statements accredited to officials of producing companies.

H. B. Davies, the federal oil mediator from the office of the secretary of labor, stated today that he had advised union men to wait patiently for further developments before taking action on their complaint that they had been "locked out." He pointed out that a long period of readjustment necessarily followed all strikes and labor troubles.

Alleged Plotters Arrested

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 10.—Thirty-eight Mexicans, alleged plotters against the government of Lower California, were jailed in a series of police raids here. The formal charge against the men is vagrancy, but they are said to be parties to an alleged conspiracy against the Mexican government connected with three truckloads of arms and ammunition captured here recently, en route to the border.

The plot, it was declared by those acquainted with border affairs, is part of a scheme, hatched and handled exclusively on the American side of the line, to scare horsemen away from the Tia Juana race meet, scheduled to open Thanksgiving day.

Police Hold Up Funeral

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—While it was declared there was no apparent foundation upon which to base any suspicion that death was from other than natural causes, the police here today requested an undertaking firm to withhold plans for the funeral of A. A. Patterson, wealthy hotel owner, who died suddenly Sunday, until relatives arrive from Seattle, Wash.

Action was taken at the request of the Seattle police. A telegram today from Captain Searing of Seattle said A. E. Patterson of that city, a brother, had demanded an investigation and that foul play was suspected.

The divorced wife of the dead man, to whom Patterson in a will left all of his property, was expected to reach here during the day. Friends here said they believed family differences due to the fact that relatives in Seattle had not been mentioned in the will were responsible for the request for an investigation.

No Invitation Is Extended

PASADENA, Nov. 10.—An emphatic denial of the truth of persistent reports from Danville, Ky., that the Center college football team has been invited to be one of the contestants here at the New Year's game was made today by President J. J. Mitchell of the Tournament of Roses committee.

"An invitation to play has not been extended to any team as yet, and no such action will be taken until later in the month."

"I am old-fashioned enough," said the old lady with the angular face, "to believe that honesty pays, my dear young nephew." Yes, quite so," answered the nephew, "and dishonesty gets paid."

HONOR MEN OF FAMOUS SECOND DIVISION TAKE PART IN BURIAL OF UNKNOWN HERO

By International News Service

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 10.—The famous Indian Head, in army records known as the Second Division, has sent two honor men to participate in the burial of the unknown American war hero to be interred in the National cemetery at Arlington on November 11.

The men, both sergeants, were picked as two of the five non-commissioned men apportioned the army for the ceremony as body bearers. The navy and marine corps will be represented by three petty officers.

Both men—Sergeants Thomas D. Saunders and James W. Dell—have received the Distinguished Service Medal and the Croix de Guerre and were chosen for their excellent army records.

Saunders is a full-blooded Cheyenne Indian and enlisted from the state of Wyoming, while Sergeant Dell has an army record covering operations in the Philippines, Cuba and the Mexican border. He is one of the crack pistol shots of the army.

THAT'S ALL

Tomorrow—Armistice Day
Solving School Problems
Rainbow After War Clouds
Camp Grounds Necessary

By Gil A. Cowan

TOMORROW Armistice Day will be generally observed throughout the world, especially among those powers known as the Entente Allies. Tribute will be paid the heroes and veterans of the late war in fitting ceremony and in this United States of ours the Yankee spirit will make the day equal in patriotic import to the Fourth of July and Decoration Day.

In other columns will be found the program of the day and everyone will enter into the occasion, it is hoped, with a will that shall make Armistice Day, 1921, a memorable occasion.

Two big school problems are coming out of chaos and shaping into form that will bring credit to the community. The site for a new school in the southern section of the city has been selected on Glendale avenue between Acacia and Park avenues.

The high school board has been authorized to call an election for the purpose of voting $85,000 bonds and at the same time a straw ballot will determine whether this money shall be spent for a site. Broadway and Verdugo Road or Kenilworth avenue at Doran street are suggested.

The growth of the schools in numbers of pupils enrolled makes it imperative that Glendale citizens give their atttention to such matters and aid the officials in making good decisions.

Lloyd George hails President Harding's disarmament conference as the "rainbow" of peace. "The world is settling down to work," he says. This means, of course, that busy peoples will be more amenable to the work of disarmament after a war in which the nations were literally armed to the teeth.

The British premier believes the conference has come none too soon, for the spirit of war had to be forgotten before peace could be effected by words, written or spoken.

The eyes of the world are watching Washington and in the days to come the International News Service leased wire will bring to the readers of The Glendale Evening News the latest developments of this great movement toward "peace on earth, good will to men."

Establishment of tourists' auto camp grounds are essential to every city. Los Angeles now faces the task of providing additional quarters other than those in Elysian park.

Pasadena has one of the most pleasant places for the accommodation of the motorists who wish to live a day or two here and there in southern California.

Glendale should add to its attractions by providing camp grounds for this usually well-to-do class of people who come here to tour and eventually become residents.

SUES FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Nero, who fiddled while Rome burned, was not a professional musician, and his "fiddling fingers" didn't amount to so much. With P. B. Hood of Perryville, it is different. His "fiddling fingers" were necessary to make a living, he says. An accident on the Frisco railroad, he alleges in a petition filed at Poplar Bluff, impaired his "fiddling fingers" and left arm so badly that he cannot "fiddle as good as he used to." He asks $10,000 damages.

Londoners' Average Life Set at 80 Years

LONDON—That Londoners may look forward to an average lifespan of eighty years is the dictum of the chief medical officer of health, Dr. William H. Hammer.

He bases his opinion on the fact that during 1920 the birth rate increased 8.2 per 1000 while the death rate, the lowest rate, was only 12.6 for the whole county of London, an area containing over 7,000,000 people.

Infants' deaths were also the lowest on record, being 76 per 1000, 4 points below the figure for the whole of England and Wales and 9 below the New York figures.

"These phenomenal general and infantile death rates," says Dr. Hammer in his annual report, "must give pause to those who advocate on grounds of health, a return to the land.

"A death rate of 12.6 if it were possible to maintain it at that level for a series of years would entail an average duration of life for the four-score years deemed some thousands of years ago to be attainable only 'by reason of strength.'"

Many Tests to Tell Diamond From Fake

CHICAGO—Is your diamond genuine? If there is any doubt in your mind the best thing is to take it to a reliable jeweler. You can, however, test the stone yourselt if you know how. And here's how:

A small drop of water on the face of a clean diamond may be rolled about with the point of a pin without losing its globular shape. On an imitation diamond the water will spread. A genuine diamond immersed in a glass of water will sparkle as brightly as in the air. A counterfeit gem will be almost invisible.

An imitation squeezed between two silver dollars may be crushed by the pressure of the fingers. This test, when performed by the strongest man, will not injure a diamond. A steel file applied to a diamond will not scratch it. It will chip a counterfeit. When marked by an aluminum pencil a genuine stone may be easily cleaned of the mark. The imitation holds the mark stubbornly.

The best test of all is that of specific gravity. All diamonds have a specific gravity of 3.52. If you don't know how to take specific gravity any chemist can take it for you.

The latest word from the syndicate which controls the diamond market is that the price of diamonds will not come down. The directors of the company say, on the contrary, that conditions at the South African mines make it probable there will be a slow but steady advance in price for several years.

Kansas City Builds to Beat Landlords

KANSAS CITY—Kansas city is building to beat the landlord profiteers.

This fact was made evident by a report recently issued by the American Contractors' association, which shows Kansas City spent 220 per cent more in building during September, this year, than the same month in 1920.

Kansas City leads all other middle-western cities in building activities. Wichita has gained 110 per cent over last year and Omaha 50 per cent.

According to statistics compiled by the association mentioned previously, the building in Kansas City during September amounted to $1,865,850. During the same month last year $582,300 was spent.

Verdugo Woodlands Park Being Filled With Glendale Dirt

The park part of Verdugo Woodlands is being filled with dirt from the Ambrosini Hotel building at Broadway and Glendale avenue. The score of trucks make a quick haul out Glendale avenue to Verdugo road and dump their loads the other side of the Canada boulevard bridge.

When this improvement in the canyon is completed, the F. P. Newport Company will formulate plans for its utility and make it one of the most beautiful spots in southern California. Already Verdugo Woodlands is noted for its beautiful landscape and many home makers are being brought there daily, it seems.

W. L. Twining, general manager, states that Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fluckiger of Rochester, N. Y., arrived in Los Angeles last Monday, visited the tract Tuesday, came back Wednesday and purchased a homesite at the corner of Hillside drive and Bonita Way, and this morning construction of a $6500 bungalow was commenced by Mr. Fluckiger who is a building contractor of twenty-four years' experience.

J. C. Merritt and family of Elkhart, Ind., who was motoring to Los Angeles with his family stopped en route the first of the week to see the beauties of this section of the southland and he was so pleased that he purchased a lot on Woodland avenue. He plans the erection of a chalet immediately.

Mrs. A. Roabach of Avalon, Catalina Island, purchased the northeast corner of Wabasso way and Bonita drive and Hines & Eastman have plans for her residence under way. Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Bonte of Auburn, N. Y., bought at Colina and Hillside drives, the property boasting a flowing stream. A rustic home with sunken gardens is planned.

Stenographers Speed to Music of Bands

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Dozens of itinerant street bands, mostly brass, but occasionally of the string variety, are the latest additions to the attractions of London. The average number of performers is six, and, in addition, there are generally two collectors.

These bands spring out at one from every corner of the city. One may be turning a supposedly peaceful corner when the blatant note of a furious cornet causes a war-worn veteran to jump in the air. And barely has he recovered before a jingling collection box, pushed into his face, gives him a still further shock.

Most of these bandsmen claim to be ex-soldiers, and the playing, in general, suggests a military training. They also claim to be out of work, but the probabilities are they make far more by street-playing than by their ordinary occupations.

The bands, nevertheless, are having their effect on the life of London. The machines of a roomful of stenographers may be heard clicking in time to a one-step. It sometimes happens that a business man opens his checks to the strain of "The Hallelujah Chorus" and occasionally surveys his bills to the music of "The Dead March."

Old Dobbin Still Has a Claim to Fame

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—Despite the fact that autos are multiplying faster than horses are being bred, Old Dobbin bobs up occasionally with a performance that stamps him as being of iron construction.

Postmaster General Hays has just been informed of the exploits of a gray horse owned by George Caldwell a rural mail carrier in Pennsylvania. Making more than ten miles a day for the last twelve years, this horse has traveled 50,000 miles, equivalent to two trips around the globe at the equator. He is now sixteen years old and still going strong.

"Old Dobbin has not yet gone into the discard," said Postmaster General Hays when he was told of the faithful service of this old rural service equine.

of the district," admitted that he had been instrumental in having a new traffic ordinance framed at Pasadena, which he had considered so simple that a child could understand it, until it had been put into operation, when he concluded that there wasn't a lawyer in the city who could interpret it. In case any of the automobile men were arrested in his district, he promised to see that they "received their beans warm."

Henry W. Wright, speaker of the assembly, made a brief talk mostly filled with pleasantries, during which he remarked: "I do not know of any industry that has such a hold on every little town as the automobile industry. A few years ago we did not dream what the automobile industry would develop into and I do not dare to prophesy its future. The industry is one of the greatest in the country.

Attention To Service

"I congratulate you upon your organization because it means that you will give more attention to service. It is a fine thing when a bunch of men in the same line of business in the same town can get together. We can remember when every merchant was fighting each other and even the churches didn't get along. In every trade and industry now people are getting together and helping each other. The development of business brings more business. I congratulate you; I am for you."

A short talk on scientific character analyzing was given by M. E. Drum, who diagnosed the features of several present.

Joseph A. Moore, president of the organization, acted as toastmaster. P. W. Battelle, secretary, and other officials were present as well as representatives from Long Beach and other communities.

Those From Glendale

Music during the evening was furnished by three orchestras—one of which was from San Francisco. A demonstration was given of the wireless telephone and other electrical apparatus by Herman Prosser.

Among those attending from Glendale were: Max L. Green of the Oakland agency and wife; W. W. Reilly and R. L. Davis, Glendale Hudson Motor Company; Don Packer of the Studebaker agency, wife, sister, and Miss Doris Packer, and Page Stockwell, who is visiting the Packer family from Ann Arbor, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hirzel, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gregg, Glendale Auto Body and Fender Company; Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Hill of the Fred S. Hill Garage; Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bates of William H. Hooper & Co.

Aero Burglars Rob Berlin Warehouse

BERLIN—Burglars from the clouds looted the warehouse of the firm of Heilbrenner, in the Mohrenstrasse, carrying off carpets and tapestry to the tune of $6,400.

A large hole had been made in the roof of the building, through which the thieves had effected their entrance.

An hour after the discovery of the theft three men, one of them a local merchant named Schutz, were seen to step out of an airplane near the frontier.

They were interrogated by police, and their machine was found to be filled with valuable curios and other articles, including the stolen carpets.

Whereupon the men confessed that they had stolen the goods, which they had loaded on an airplane, also stolen. The machine had been kept in waiting in a neighboring field. The intention of the thieves was to fly over the frontier into Belgium.

It is better to fall among crows than flatterers; for those devour only the dead—these the living.—Autisthenes.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.—Advertisement.

CASH PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED IN COAST LEAGUE

Directors Put Up Fund for Next Season; Draft to Be Hotly Contested

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Assessing themselves $2500 each, directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball league voted unanimously to hang up a cash prize of $20,000 for the players of the coast circuit to fight for during the 1922 season.

The $20,000 cash bonus will be split seven ways. The winning club will receive $6000; the second place team $4000; third place, $3000; fourth place, $2500; fifth place, $2000; sixth place, $1500, and the seventh place team will get $1000. It is believed the cash bonus will cause the teams to battle until the last day.

The money will be divided in equal shares to the men on the clubs before September 1. If a player is obtained after that time it will be decided by President McCarthy just how much he shall receive.

Season Opens April 4

It was voted to open the Coast league season Tuesday, April 4.

While the first four weeks of the 1922 schedule was announced by William H. McCarthy, it was not definitely decided whether a twenty-six or twenty-eight weeks' schedule will be adopted. If rain insurance can be obtained the season will last twenty-eight weeks, otherwise it will be two weeks shorter.

William H. McCarthy, president of the league, was named the official representative of the league for the annual meeting of the minor leaguers at Buffalo, December 6.

The directors voted against allowing the draft and McCarthy will fight against it at the annual meeting. He also will see Judge K. M. Landis in an effort to prevent major league scouts from tampering with Coast league players.

The directors wound up the fall meeting of the league this afternoon by voting to allow Sacramento to have 45 per cent of the gate receipts on the road for a period of five years.

In return Lou Moreing and Charles Moreing agreed to build a ball park costing from $60,000 to $75,000.

High School Team and Monrovia Will Battle on Friday

As a grand windup of the Armistice day a big football game will be played on the local field, Monrovia being the opponents for Coach Hayhurst's pig skin chasers. Never in the history of football has Monrovia defeated the Black and Reds, and this year is not expected to be an exception to the rule that has stood for years.

The Green and White warriors from the city of rock crushers have won every game this year, and are going strong. According to the football dope, Monrovia will win by at least two touchdowns. The fast Citrus team was unable to score on them, being beaten 21 to 0, while the locals held the Lemons to a 21 to 12 score. Monrovia beat Alhambra 48 to 0, and fourteen points was all that Glendale could acquire. Monrovia also beat Covina 14 to 0, and the locals held them to a nothing to nothing tie.

Last year at a similar game on Armistice day a record breaking crowd was in attendance. This year an even larger crowd is expected, and a portable set of bleachers has been built to help accommodate the spectators. To get in and be sure of a seat one should be there by 1:30 or 2 o'clock, as the game is to be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock. Tickets are on sale by nearly every student in G. U. H. S., and the price of admission is 50 cents. Half of the grand stand will be reserved for cash customers, while the students will occupy the new bleachers. The big slogan for the day is "Come early and get a seat—otherwise stand up."

Metzetti Is Ready for Contest With John Hackenschmidt

A. Metzetti, the Hollywood wrestler, is ready for his bout with John Hackenschmidt of 627 Salem street tomorrow evening in the animal tent of the Sheesley Shows, announces Ralph B. Staub, 1211 East Harvard street, manager for Metzetti.

Staub says that during the past week his man has been racing the bicycle before breakfast each morning from Hollywood to Burbank and Santa Monica, just as an appetizer.

"Metzetti has been doing some strenuous work," said Mr. Staub today, "and he shows the result of it by being in fine condition for his bout tomorrow night. He varies his training by taking a hike up to Mt. Hollywood. For this he wears several heavy sweaters. The bout, I think, will be a thriller from start to finish, and will come as a fitting climax to the program tomorrow evening."

PLAYING A SURE THING

The street faker expressed disgust with the crowd of pikers standing around him. "Why," he exclaimed, witheringly, "I'll bet you fellows aren't sports enough to offer me 50 cents for this bright, new dollar bill."

"I will," piped up a ragged urchin.

"All right," said the faker. "Hand over the 50 cents."

"Take it our of the buck an' hand me the change," said the urchin, who wasn't taking any chances.

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Another new international intercollegiate competition has just been arranged whereby the University of British Columbia will play an annual series of Rugby football (English code) with the Stanford University of California. The first game of the series is scheduled to be played on Christmas Day at Vancouver, B. C., and others of the series will be played during the following week.

It will be remembered that Stanford continued to play Rugby after California dropped it and went back to the American Rugby. It is only in the last two years that Stanford has gone back to the American game and according to Stanford men the agreement was made that if Stanford went back to the "old game" that California would agree to continue Rugby as a minor sport and play an annual game. This, Stanford men claim, has not been lived up to and consequently Stanford has arranged this International series with the Canadian varsity.

Incidentally, Stanford is yet strong for the English code of Rugby, and it will be remembered that the team which represented the United States at Antwerp and won for this country the Rugby championship of the world Olympic games was composed for the most part of Stanford players. Naturally all Stanford men are proud of that achievement, and if it were possible to arrange games with eastern colleges who play the English code Stanford would like the opportunity of so doing.

Lester Smith, the youthful aquatic sprinter of the San Francisco Olympic club has evidently regained some of his speed. He was in the doldrums and slumps for some time, but in a dual meet with Stanford university the other night he swam a creditable hundred yards in 57 seconds and besides that won the 220 in fair time and swam as anchor man in the relay race, which he also won.

Many athletes and coaches have superstitions or peculiarities. Hugo Bezdek, football coach at Penn State is not superstitious, but he has peculiarities. When one of his trick plays is tried for the first or second time, Bezdek drops his head into his hands and gazes at the ground. He maintains that position until the referee's whistle blows and if the play has been favorable to his team he straightens his head and beams all over. If, however, the play has failed he drops down his head again between his squat shoulders until another new play is called.

It is the exception rather than the rule that captains of other lines of sport are found on a college football team. Harvard has probably the largest number of captains of other sports on its team than any college. Keith Kane, left tackle, is the football captain and he bosses Fiske Brown, track captain; George Owen, hockey captain, and Arthur Conlon, baseball captain. Louis McCagg was on the football team last year, but when he was made a rowing captain for the coming season he resigned from the football squad to devote his energies to the interests of his brine-slashing boys.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Billy Shade, the San Francisco light heavyweight boxer, has made a good impression among the critics of this city, who freely admit that he has lived up to all the advance notices printed about him. In a recent bout with Fay Keiser of Cumberland, Md., the coast boy was given credit for having the better of at least ten rounds. Shade immediately jumped into popularity by setting a fast pace and giving the crowd plenty of action throughout the entire match. In fact it was because of the terrific pace he maintained that he slowed up toward the last few rounds which enabled his opponent to hold him even during the close of the bout. While some thought that Keiser was the harder hitter of the two, there was no division of opinion as to the ability of Shade.

Critics declared him to be as fast as a lightweight with both his hands and his feet, and credit him with being a a master of direction in the matter of his punches which he measures unerringly. The one weakness apparent is the fact that he did not disclose a finishing punch. He had Keiser in a bad way a number of times, but seemed unable to send in a blow for the quietus. He demonstrated, however, that he was capable of taking a good stiff punch. Keiser got to him several times, but it seemed in no way to stop the aggressiveness of the Californian.

Under the circumstances, the interest in Shade, as far as championship aspirations are concerned, will center on the development he may or may not make in the matter of a punch which will carry with it the ability of administering a knockout. It seems to be agreed that, at the present time, he is lacking in this essential of a well-rounded out champion. Shade still is nothing but a youngster who, until he went to Australia, something like a year ago, was totally unknown except to the boxing coterie of California. He seems to be well equipped with everything save that knockout punch. At least, that is the impression that the New York boxing fans have at the present time.

There can be no doubt of the hit that the Californian has made here, and it assures him in the light of this recognition, of every opportunity of making good. Tex Rickard, the Gotham promoter, is favorably inclined toward him and doubtless will make much use of the youngster. Shade, like many other aspiring youngsters, already has the Dempsey bee in his bonnet. His friends, naturally, are urging him to put the soft pedal on notions of this sort. They do not want to see him jeopardize what looks like a promising ring career by undue haste which may turn all his bright prospect into an irretrievable disaster.

Shade appears to be a level-headed chap who is willing to act on the counsel of his elders and, as he shows no evidence of being afflicted with the swell head, it is not unreasonable to assume that he will continue his campaign along the present course of gaining experience through meeting boxers whom he can use in the nature of stepping stones.

Gym Work Started by Some Members of Athletic Club

Many members of the Glendale Athletic club met in the high school gymnasium last night where President Rex Randall conducted calisthenics. The response shown for the first class was enthusiastic, states Mr. Randall, and after going through "sitting up" exercises, Walter Dodge and L. E. Thompson did some work on the mat to get Dodge in trim for his boxing and wrestling bouts in the big animal tent of the Sheesley Shows tomorrow night.

A directors' meeting of the club will be held at 111 East Broadway tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock at which time final action will be taken in adopting the constitution and by-laws of the organization.

An actor-manager was being shown around a lunatic asylum. Seated under a tree in the garden was a man who was counting his fingers again and again, muttering: "Eeney, meeny, miney, moe."

"Who is this?" ased the actor.

"A strange case, sir," replied the attendant. "We found him in the street. He's harmless, but hopelessly insane."

The actor looked at the lunatic closely, while the attendant moved away. "Bless my soul!" he exclaimed presently. "He resembles a former member of my company. Tell me, aren't you Bawl, the actor?"

"Cheese it," whispered the lunatic. "If they don't find me out I can stay here all the summer rent free."

Vaudeville Show Is Featured at T. D. & L. Theatre

Tomorrow there is coming to the T. D. and L. theatre another great probram of Meiklejohn & Dunn vaudeville. On this bill will be found some of the most entertaining acts ever presented on any stage and it is sure to be enjoyed by all who see it.

If there is a headline position on this wonderful show the place really belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher who are famous the country over for their many laughing successes. This year they are to be seen in "The Half Way House," a sketch that has played the Pantages circuit and has just completed a run in Los Angeles. This is a funny rural sketch.

The Dixie Four, those southern entertainers, offer songs and imitations that are rarely heard away from the old southern plantations and their harmony will please.

Three other acts of high class vaudeville will also be seen on this program in conjunction with the photoplay, "Moonlight and Honeysuckle." In this picture Mary Miles Minter, that dainty star, scores a distinctive hit as a romantic miss who applies unusual tests to prospective bridegrooms.

Today is the last day of George Fitzmaurice's splendid Paramount production "Experience," with Richard Barthelmess and Marjorie Daw.

UNPROFESSIONAL ADVICE

"Doctor, I want to tell you about my husband," said the patient's wife. "He complains of shortness of breath. You know he wears tight vests, and pants when he goes upstairs."

"Vests and pants?" exclaimed the doctor, who was something of a purist. "Tell him to wear waistcoats and trousers."

British Centenarian Studying Aviation

ALDERSHOT, Eng.—England can boast of many living centenarians, but the most remarkable representative, perhaps, of hale old age is Isaac Lamb, Ash, Surrey, who was 103 on September 14. He is proud of the fact that he can still shave himself.

One of his greatest enjoyments is to sit in the garden and watch the airplanes flying overhead.

"I have become quite an expert in airplanes," he said. "My sight is so good that I am able to distinguish the difference between the various kinds.

"I have only lost one tooth, and the doctor says that chewing tobacco has preserved my teeth, which are as firm as a rock," said the old man proudly.

Overland, Willys-Knight Car Owners Get Offer

A small portion of the edition of The Glendale Evening News was issued last night before an error in the advertisement by George T. Smith, 228 South Brand, was noticed. The advertisement was published to call attention of Overland and Willys-Knight car owners to a special offer, greatly to their advantage. A few of the first copies off the press read "Oakland and Willys-Knight car owners." The error was soon noticed and the advertisement changed to properly read "Overland and Willys-Knight car owners."

Mr. Smith says that it "makes no difference whether you bought your car here or elsewhere, whether you bought it new or second-hand, or what type Overland or Willys-Knight motor car you drive, if you are now the owner of an Overland or Willy-Knight motor car, it will be to your advantage to let us know immediately, your name, address, phone number, type car, year and model."

Many of the people of Glendale who are building and furnishing homes will appreciate the establishment of such a place in this city.

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio.—A new form of auto theft has been reported here. Billy Whitcraft, aged four, was playing with his toy auto on the sidewalk. A bulldog approached. Picking up the toy in his teeth, the dog ran away with it. Billy reported the loss to Whitcraft, Sr., who failed to find dog or auto.

Sword-shaped bars of iron were used by the ancient Britons as money, and many of these are now found in British museums. A recent investigation shows that six different denominations were used, distinguished by their size.

CALIFORNIA IS ECONOMICALLY SOUND AND ITS BANKS ARE SAFE, SAYS SUPERINTENDENT J. DODGE

Head of State Bank Department Holds Prime Problems Are Not Financial, But of Normal Development of Great Physical Advantages

Jonathan S. Dodge, superintendent of banks of California, well known in Glendale through the fact he was once a county supervisor for that district, has submitted his first report to Governor Stephens. The period covered in the document is from July 1, 1920, to October 31, 1921, and discloses startling and vital facts of primary importance to the agricultural, industrial, financial and banking groups of the state.

"California is economically sound and its banks are safe," says Mr. Dodge. "The state has passed successfully through the crisis of deflation and its banks, having met the enormous credit strain of the period are distributing new credit upon which is being built new prosperity. Our wonderfully varied wealth of the fields and farms and orchards, of the mines and industries and manufactures, of domestic and foreign trade, is upon a firmer and sounder foundation than since the beginning of the world war.

"We are richer than when the war ended. We are free from the speculations of war finance. We are going forward clearly to a realization of great opportunities."

"Our prime problems are not now those of financial and economic readjustment, but of normal, rapid development, of tremendous physical advantages. Our producing and distributing communities are entitled to the full confidence of our banks and our banks merit the complete reliance of those who demand a just and an adequate distribution of credit.

"The period I seek to analyze is one of general readjustment in business, in prices, in manufacturing activities and a reduction in buying power, together with a credit liquidation and a demoralization in exchange rates. All of these influenced the state and as the year closed we exhibited a material increase in our banking assets, a more normal activity in our varied pursuits and a realization that we are again upon a firm economic foundation. The period begins a new business career for California, a career with lessened costs and larger production, a decline in the cost of living, a return to normal consumption and employment and a re-establishment of trade and industry upon a new plane.

Value of Sound Policies

"We have reached this enviable position after the most eventful and remarkable year in our economic history. It has been a year of strange vicissitudes, but a year of very marked stabilization in all our activities. Our banks have passed through a fire that has taught them the value of sound policies. They have a better vision of our financial needs. The markets of the world demand the products that we have to sell; our state is neither overbuilt nor overextended in any of its basic activities; we are as sound financially, industrially and economically as any state in the union. We are recovering from inflation, extravagance and unsound economics. We have reached the final stage in readjustment.

"We have the intelligent co-operation of our banks, a reliance upon each other and through the Federal Reserve System a wonderful reserve source of strength. Credit is being given freely to solvent business enterprises.

"We stand at the beginning of a new economic life. The Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco has proved itself to be a shock absorber for the banks of the state. We have gradually and surely been changing from a period of unsettled relative values to a period of real values; from temporary, distorted conditions to intrinsic facts in our economic life.

"The story of the year is that we have been willing to receive a fair recompense for the economic service we render. The artificial expansion that was due to the war is disappearing and normal expansion, due to economic demands, is making its appearance.

"We supply many of the necessary needs of the world. We recognize clearly what we must do; we know that we need a readjustment of our agricultural situation because of a lack of a present market and declining foreign markets. We need a realignment of agricultural, commercial and business interests in the state; we must develop our industries still more and find markets for our surplus production. Our difficulty is not over-production, but underconsumption. We are very much more than an agricultural state and in that relationship which is to be established between us and other communities, we should have free zones which do not injure our industries but promote our trade.

Gold No Longer Evil

"California banks, possessing more than $700,000,000 in assets are members of the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco, and this membership has taught perhaps more than anything else that gold is no longer an evil in finance. The mobilization of gold in the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco prevents its vicious use in the hands of hundreds of banks creating an inflation of unwise credit. Gold is now used to manufacture credit and when credit is not needed gold is not used. The rediscount privilege of the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco is the lever that turns on or shuts off the credit of the banks of California. It is an insurance that before now we neither understood nor enjoyed.

"California was among the last of the states of the American union to feel the depressing influence of deflation and it is among the first to sense the new and normal correlation of production and distribution. During the year all of our large cities enjoyed a good retail trade."

"A feeling of confidence came to us after the close of the fiscal year under discussion. Increased production and industrial energy, widely exercised, resulted in an increase in employment; a remarkable development in seasonal activities, in road construction, in reclamation work, in power and irrigation products, in improvements in all of our chief industries, demonstrated to us and particularly to our banks, that we are again on the high road of sane development. Our great co-operative marketing associations, controlling the citrus, apricot, prune and raisin industries, added in a notable degree to the restoration of our equilibrium. These associations are the model of the world, they are being copied in every other civilized trading community; they perform a service that is inestimable in the state and their encouragement should be the purpose of every individual in California who has the welfare of the state as his concern.

"In ten years the crop value of California has increased from $146,500,000 to $587,500,000.

"This tremendous increase is due to the use of water and water power, to irrigation, to intensified farming, to increasing the improved cultivation of our soil. We have enormous products of the fields and farms; there are immense riches on our ranges, in the seas, in our forests and in our mines.

"We are the fifth state in the union in banking power, as the assets in our state and national banks are more than $2,500,000,000. Of this immense aggregate $1,500,000,000 are in the state banks. There has been an amazing growth in our commercial state banks that now have assets of more than $500,000,000 and deposits amounting to more than $346,000,000, these being owned by more than 700,000 depositors.

"Our savings banks possess a high economic and social value; they are organized to create habits of thrift in the people of the state and to develop California in its natural resources, to give financial support and direction to the immense problem of irrigation; to assist in the subdivision of large real estate holdings; to help in plans of drainage and reclamation; to encourage those great public utilities that harness the natural water power of the state; to give reality to natural avenues for transportation and, in brief, to contribute to the success of every agency that is vital to the welfare and orderly advancement of California. All of these enterprises ask support from the savings banks of California, but every project is valuable to the savings banks and to the people of the state only as it yields the greatest value to the public. In railroad finance, in public utility finance and in industrial finance, there must be exclusively an economic purpose. Every enterprise financed by our savings banks must serve a public and not a private profit.

Offers Big Opportunity

"In hydro-electric development California finds one of its greatest opportunities. The development of our water power will solve two gigantic problems, those of transportation and of oil, both affecting most intimately our economic life and its future. We need, incontestably, a substitute for oil in our industries. In real estate bond issues we have another immense field for legitimate savings bank investments, but these issues must again be for social and not private purpose. They must be contrived to assist subdivision into small farms. Such issues have no place in savings banks if they are simply for refunding purposes or if they are to pay the debts of the owners of large acreages of land. Such plans should be financed by private funds and not savings bank funds.

"We possess a gigantic aggregate of savings bank assets, the total being $998,000,000. The deposits in our savings banks are $898,000,000, the number of depositors are 1,598,000, approximately one-half the population of California, while the statistics of the United States as a whole show that only one in ten persons is a savings depositor in continental America. Included in the aggregate of savings deposits are more than $1,000,000 in school savings deposits. Collection of these deposits should be one of the vital activities of our savings banks.

For School Children

"I can conceive of no better method of inculcating practical lessons of good citizenship, thrift, business intelligence, of development of individual character, than this system of collecting from the school children of California their savings. Our trust companies are proving their remarkable value to the state. They have in their possession more than $100,000,000 in a trust relationship. They enjoy the confidence of the people of the state and they are entitled to it.

"During this year of strange caprice in industry, finance and banking, a year of danger, difficulty and deflation, a period of hazard and of hardship in the world of production and distribution, not a single bank in the state system of California has failed.

"There have been tremendous effects of reaction from the fool's paradise of inflated war profits, and there has been a splendid response by the banks of California to an appeal for new and necessary standards in finance, banking, trade and commerce. We live in a commonwealth of many diversified forms of wealth; we possess potentialities for prodigious new wealth; our wonderful natural resources demand exploitation and as we stand at the door of new opportunities we must suffer no deviation from our purpose to command for the people of the state the prosperity that it merits in the highest measure."

The report of Superintendent Dodge is replete with statistical information and analysis applicable to the condition of the banks in the state system. The document contains an elaborate analytic economic survey of the state of very high value to every productive energy in California.

MARINES TO GUARD MAILS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—Drastic steps were decided upon at today's cabinet meeting, in order to protect the United States mails, Attorney Gen. Daugherty announced.

The Attorney General said that Postmaster General Hays would announce complete plans today, and said that he understood that the plan called for placing armed forces, probably United States marines, on board mail trains. He stated, however, that all announcements as to the plans should come from the postmaster general.

The attorney general also suggested there might be a concentration of department of justice agents, under William J. Burns, in order to protect the mails. He indicated that agents of the department will be concentrated in the larger cities, in an attempt to make a cleanup of suspects and to devise efficient plans for systematic guarding of the mail and mail trucks.

The first train wholly occupied by women in the history of railroad travel was that chartered by the Massachusetts delegation to attend the women's congress held in Chicago at the time of the world's fair in that city.
